Peter Kemble, Eſq; James Parker, Eſq; The Chief Juſtice, Richard Stockton, Eſq; Daniel Cox, Eſq; John Lawrence, Eſq; Francis Hopkinſon, Eſq;

The Board reſumed the Conſideration of the Charges brought by the Earl of Sterling, againſt Samuel Ogden, Eſq. and having duly examined and weighed the Evidence on both Sides produced to the Board, are of Opinion, that the ſaid Charges are not in any wiſe ſupported;—but that on the contrary, the Conduct of the ſaid Samuel Ogden, in his Endeavours to diſcover the Perſons concerned in the counterfeiting the Bills of Credit of this Province, and other atrocious Villanies, to have been that of a vigilant and upright Magiſtrate: And they are further of Opinion, that it is in a great Meaſure owing to his Activity and Zeal for the public Good, that a Gang of Villains very miſchievous to this and the neighbouring Provinces, have been detected, and ſome of them brou[illegible] Juſtice. The Board do therefore think proper to give Mr. Ogden the fulleſt Aſſurances of their Approbation of his Conduct, as a good Magiſtrate.

Feb. 14 1775. 67 79

To the KING's moſt excellent MAJESTY in COUNCIL.
The humble PETITION and MEMORIAL of the ASSEMBLY of JAMAICA,
(Voted in Aſſembly, the 28th of Dec. 1774)
Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Aſſembly of Jamaica, having taken into our conſideration the preſent critical ſtate of the colonies, humbly approach the Throne, to aſſure your Majeſty of our moſt dutiful regard to your Royal Perſon and family, and our attachment to, and reliance on, our fellow ſubjects in Great-Britain, founded on the moſt ſolid and durable baſis, the continued enjoyment of our perſonal rights, and the ſecurity of our properties.

That, weak and feeble as this Colony is, from its very ſmall number of white inhabitants, and its peculiar ſituation from the incumbrance of more than Two Hundred Thouſand ſlaves, it cannot be ſuppoſed that we now intend, or ever could have intended reſiſtance to Great-Britain.

That this Colony has never, by riots, or other violent meaſures oppoſed, or permitted an act of reſiſtance againſt any law impoſed on us by Great-Britain, though always truly ſenſible of our juſt rights, and of the pernicious conſequences, both to the parent and infant ſtate, with which ſome of them muſt be attended; always relying with the moſt implicit confidence, on the juſtice and paternal tenderneſs of your Majeſty, even to the moſt feeble and diſtant of your ſubjects, and depending, that when your Majeſty, and your Parliament ſhould have maturely conſidered and deliberated on the claims of Great Britain and her colonies, every cauſe of diſſatisfaction would be removed.

That juſtly alarmed with the approaching horrors of an unnatural conteſt between Great-Britain and her colonies, in which the moſt dreadful calamities to this iſland, and the inevitable deſtruction of the ſmall ſugar colonies are involved; and excited by theſe apprehenſions, as well as by our affection for our fellow ſubjects, both in Great-Britain and the colonies, We implore your Majeſty's favourable reception of this our humble Petition and Memorial, as well on behalf of ourſelves and our Conſtituents, the good people of this iſland, as on behalf of all other your Majeſty's ſubjects, the coloniſts of America; but eſpecially thoſe who labour at preſent under the heavy weight of your Majeſty's diſpleaſure, for whom we entreat to be admitted as humble ſuitors: That we may not, at ſo important a criſis, be wanting to contribute our ſincere and well meant, however ſmall endeavours, to heal thoſe diſorders, which may otherwiſe terminate in the deſtruction of the empire.

That as we conceive it neceſſary for this purpoſe to enter into the different claims of Great Britain and her colonies, we beg leave to place it in the Royal mind as the firſt eſtabliſhed principle of the conſtitution, that the people of England have a right to partake, and do partake of the legiſlation of their country, and that no laws can affect them, but ſuch as receive their aſſent, given by themſelves, or their Repreſentatives; and it follows, therefore, that no one part of your Majeſty's Engliſh ſubjects, either can, or ever could legiſlate for any other part.

That the ſettlers of the firſt colonies, but eſpecially thoſe of the elder colonies of North America, as well as the conquerors of this iſland, were a part of the Engliſh people, in every reſpect equal to them, and poſſeſſed of every right and privilege, at the time of their emigration, which the people of England were poſſeſſed of, and irrefragably, to that great right of conſenting to the laws which ſhould bind them, in all caſes whatſoever; and who emigrating at firſt in ſmall numbers, when they might have been oppreſſed, Such rights and privileges were conſtantly guarantied by the crown, to the emigrants and conquerors, to be held and enjoyed by them in the places to which they emigrated; and were confirmed by many repeated ſolemn engagements, made public by proclamation, under the faith of which, they did actually emigrate and conquer: That therefore the people of England, had no rights, power, or privilege, to give to the emigrants; as theſe were, at the time of their emigration, poſſeſſed of all ſuch rights, equally with themſelves.

That the peers of England were poſſeſſed of very eminent, and diſtinguiſhed privileges in their own right, as a branch of legiſlation, a court of juſtice in the dernier reſort, for all appeals from the people, and in the firſt inſtance, for all cauſes inſtituted by the repreſentatives of the people; but that it does not appear that they ever conſider'd themſelves as acting in ſuch capacities for the colonies, the peers having never to this day, heard or determin'd the cauſes of the coloniſts in appeal, in which it ever was, and is their duty to ſerve the ſubjects within the realm.

That from what has been ſaid, it appears that the emigrants could receive nothing from either the peers or the people; the former being unable to communicate their privileges, and the latter on no more than an equal footing with themſelves; but that with the king it was far otherwiſe; the royal prerogative as now annexed to, and belonging to the crown, being totally independent of the people, who cannot invade, add to, or diminiſh it, nor reſtrain or invalidate thoſe legal grants, which the prerogative hath a juſt right to give, and hath very liberally given for the encouragement of colonization; to ſome colonies, it granted almoſt all the royal powers of government, which they hold and enjoy at this day; but to none of them did it grant leſs than to the firſt conquerors of this iſland, in whoſe favour it is declared by a royal proclamation, "That they ſhall have the ſame privileges to all intents and purpoſes, as the free born ſubjects of England."

That to uſe the name, or authority of the people of the parent ſtate, to take away, or render ineffectual, the legal grants of the Crown to the Coloniſts, is deluſive, and deſtroys that confidence, which the people have ever had and ought to have, of the moſt ſolemn royal grants in their favour, and renders unſtable and inſecure, thoſe very rights and privileges which prompted their emigration.

That your coloniſts and your petitioners, having the moſt implicit confidence in the royal faith pledged to them in the moſt ſolemn manner, by your predeceſſors, reſted ſatisfied with their different portions of the royal grants, and having been bred from their infancy, to venerate the name of Parliament, a word ſtill dear to the heart of every Briton, and conſidered as the palladium of liberty, and the great ſource whence their own is derived, received the ſeveral acts of the Parliament of England, and Great Britain, for the regulation of the trade of the Colonies, as the ſalutary precautions of a prudent father, for the proſperity of a wide extended family; and that in this light we received them, without a thought of queſtioning the right, the whole tenor of our conduct, will demonſtrate, for above one hundred years.

That though we received theſe regulations of trade from our fellow ſubjects of England, and Great Britain, ſo advantageous to us as Coloniſts, as Engliſh men, and Britons, we did not thereby conſer on them a power of legiſlating for us, far leſs that of deſtroying us and our children, by diveſting us of all rights and property.

That with reluctance we have been drawn from the proſecution of our internal affairs, to behold with amazement, a plan almoſt carried into execution, for enſlaving the Colonies, founded, as we conceive, on a claim of Parliament, to bind the Colonies in all caſes whatſoever.

Your humble petitioners have, for ſeveral years, with deep and ſilent ſorrow, lamented this unreſtrained exerciſe of legiſlative power; ſtill hoping from the interpoſition of their Sovereign, to avert that laſt and greateſt of calamities, that of being reduced to an abject ſtate of ſlavery, by having an arbitrary government eſtabliſhed in the Colonies, for the very attempting of which a Miniſter of your predeceſſor was impeached by a Houſe of Commons.

With like ſorrow do we find the Popiſh religion eſtabliſhed by law, which by treaty was only to be tolerated.

That the moſt eſſential rights of the Colonies have been invaded, and their property given and granted to your Majeſty, by men not entitled to ſuch a power.

That the murder of the coloniſts hath been encouraged by another act, diſallowing and annulling their trials by Juries of the vicinage; and that fleets and armies have been ſent to enforce thoſe dreadful laws.

We therefore in this deſperate extremity, moſt humbly beg leave, to approach the throne, to declare to your Majeſty, that our fellow ſubjects in Great Britain, and conſequently their repreſentatives, the houſe of commons, have not a right, as we truſt we have ſhewn, to legiſlate for the colonies; and that your petitioners and the coloniſts are not, nor ought to be bound by any other laws, than ſuch as they themſelves aſſented to, and are not diſallowed by your Majeſty.

Your petitioners do therefore make this claim and demand from their ſovereign, as guarantee of their juſt rights, on the faith and confidence of which they have ſettled, and continue to reſide in theſe diſtant parts of the empire, that no laws ſhall be made and attempted to be forced upon them, injurious to their rights as coloniſts, Engliſhmen or Britons.

That your petitioners fully ſenſible of the great advantages that have ariſen from the regulations of trade in general, prior to the year 1760, as well to Great Britain and her Colonies, as to your petitioners in particular, and being anxiouſly deſirous of increaſing the good effects of theſe laws, as well as to remove an obſtacle which is new in our Government, and could not have exiſted on the principles of our conſtitution, as it hath ariſen from colonization, we do declare for ourſelves and the good people of this iſland, that we freely conſent to the operation of all ſuch acts of the Britiſh parliament, as are limited to the regulation of our external commerce only, and the sole object of which, is the mutual advantage of Great Britain and her Colonies.

We, your petitioners, do therefore beseech your Majesty, that you will be pleased, as the common parent of your subjects, to become a mediator between your European and American subjects, and to consider the latter, however far removed from your royal presence, as equally entitled to your protection, and the benefits of the English constitution, the deprivation of which, must dissolve that dependence on the parent state, which it is our glory to acknowledge, whilst enjoying those rights under her protection; but should this bond of union be ever destroyed, and the Colonists reduced to consider themselves as tributaries to Great Britain, they must cease to venerate her as an affectionate parent.

We beseech your Majesty to believe, that it is our earnest prayer to Almighty Providence, to preserve your Majesty in all happiness, prosperity and Honour, and that there never may be wanting one of your illustrious line, to transmit the blessings of our excellent constitution to the latest posterity, and reign in the hearts of a loyal, grateful and affectionate people.

At a Meeting of the Delegates from the several towns in the County of Fairfield (except Ridgfield and Newtown) held at the County house on the 14th day of February, A. D 1775.

ROBERT FAIRCHILD, Esq; in the Chair.

WE are happy to find ourselves unanimous in concurring with our Constituents in fully adopting and acceding to the Association and Agreement of the Continental Congress, and are determined to inforce a due observance of the same according to its true spirit and intent.—And take this opportunity to express our grateful sense of the good services of those worthy gentlemen who were members of that body.

The Counties of Hartford and New-Haven have given us the result of their deliberations, and we are ready to concur with their sentiments and proposals with respect to the mode of trying offenders which is in the words following, viz.

First. To avoid every appearance of precipitation or partiality in our proceedings, Resolved, That we will vigilantly discharge our duty as Committees of Observation, and will use our utmost influence to prevent any violation of the Association in our several districts; but, if any person, contrary to our hopes and wishes, shall be accused of any wilful breach of said Association in any particular, We do agree, that the process against him, shall be carried on in an open, candid, and deliberate manner as follows. to wit, a summons or notice in writing, signed by one of the Committee of Observation for that town, shall be served upon him, expressing the nature and circumstances of the matter laid to his charge, and inviting him (if he see cause to appear before the Committee of Observation in that town in which he resides, at a certain day and place, to exculpate himself, if he is able, which day shall be at least six days after service of such summons, at which day and place the Committee shall proceed to examine such charge, and the person accused and his accuser, shall be openly, fairly and fully heard with their witnesses and other proofs; and upon such hearing, the Committee will proceed deliberately and coolly to determine the question, whether the person accused, hath violated said Association or not. And in case any one or more of the Committee shall be an accuser or witness, he or they shall not in that case vote in condemning or acquitting the accused, nor shall any one be condemned, but upon the fullest, clearest, and most convincing proof, and any person found guilty of a wilful and deliberate violation of said Association in the calm and regular manner aforesaid, may assuredly expect, that we will hold him up to public view, as an enemy to the liberties of his country.——And we also approve of and adopt their rule of advance on European and East India goods, to be observed by the Venders, which is in the following words, viz. ——

"Whereas certain Venders of Goods, "think they shall be excusable for advan- "cing the prices of certain articles, if they "are obliged to give a higher price for "them to the Importer than they did last "year. Resolved, That altho' the Impor- "ter should violate the said Association by "raising his prices, it can by no means ex- "culpate those who deal with him, and "that no more certain and intelligible "rule can be fixed on this subject, (as the "Consumers are not, and from their situa- "tion cannot be acquainted with the origi- "nal cost) than the known and accustomed "prices for twelve months next before the "sitting of said Congress."——

And we join with them in recommending a particular attention to agriculture, arts, and manufactures: We also recommend the improving the breed of sheep, and increasing their number according to the method pointed out in the seventh article of the Association of the Continental Congress: And as the article of flax is a very considerable part of the produce of this county, we wish to see the manufacture of that article carried to greater perfection; but we shall for the present dismiss the subject of manufactures, cheerfully committing it to the patronage of our wise and patriotic assembly.—We are deeply affected to hear of the defection of two considerable towns in this county, viz. Ridgfield and Newtown. The former having publickly protested against the Continental Association, and the major part of the selectmen in the latter, not having virtue enough to give the people a fair opportunity in a constitutional way, to shew their sentiments on the present alarming state of the times, but having made use of every artifice to prevent a union in support of their liberty; and here we cannot, consistent with the duty we owe our honourable house of Representatives, pass over in silence, a glaring instance of impudence and contempt cast on that body, by one of the selectmen of Newtown, who had the boldness to set up at Vendue and sell for a pint of slip, one or more of the copies of the Addresses and Association, printed by order of the honourable house of Representatives, for the use of the several towns, and to burn or suppress the rest.—It is, at the same time, with real satisfaction, we find some respectable gentlemen who heartily adopt the peaceable measures recommended by the Congress, and have given us satisfactory evidence of their temperate zeal in the cause. Therefore,

Resolved, as the opinion of this Congress, and it is accordingly strongly recommended to the inhabitants in each of the aforesaid towns who are warmly attached to the rights of their country, that they, as soon as may be, notify a meeting of said Inhabitants, and proceed to choose a Chairman and Clerk, and fully adopt the doings of the Continental Congress, and publish and transmit the same, with their names thereunto affixed, to the several towns in this county: And it is also recommended to said inhabitants, that they have their meetings, at least once a month, and that they cordially receive all such as are sincerely willing to join them, and transmit their names to the Committees of Inspection for the several towns in the county, that they may be known and treated by the other towns in the county as friends and brethren in the common cause.

It is with reluctance, that we proceed to pass sentence against these two towns, who have given such striking evidence of their spirit of opposition, and emnity to every peaceable measure recommended and adopted by the good people of this county in general, and throughout this colony; but out duty to this distressed county command us, to distribute justice impartially to all offenders; and that these two towns may be brought to a proper sense of their duty, we do now, solemnly, in the name of virtue, honour, and love to their country, recommend it to all the good people of this county, and throughout this colony, to withdraw and withhold all commerce, dealings and connection, from all the inhabitants of those two towns, except as above excepted and provided for; and also, except in cases of absolute necessity, that they may feel the weight of the resentment of their country, which they are attempting to wound in its most tender part. And we can, with sincerity, declare, that we recommend this proceeding for the good of our country, and not for the sake of distressing these misguided or obstinate people; and we are sincerely willing to receive them into favour when they return to their duty, and recommend to the Committees of Inspection in the several towns in this County, to be vigilant in their duty, and take particular care that this sentence be carried into execution. This Congress taking into consideration the conduct of the house of Representatives in the province of ——, in treating the Continental Association with neglect; and so cowardly avoiding the consideration of that important subject, are struck with surprise, but shall leave that respectable body to the animadversions of our own worthy house of Representatives. At the same time our hearts glow with joy and gratitude toward the worthy and respectable citizens of New York, who have so gloriously exerted themselves in a very critical season, when attempts were made to introduce Goods contrary to the Association.

And whereas the conduct of James Rivington, Printer in New-York, as a Printer, has been often animadverted upon, on account of the frequent publications from his Press, that are most evidently calculated to injure the liberties and privileges of America, we are of opinion, that those animadversions are made with the greatest justice, and we therefore do recommend it to our Constituents, to guard against the misrepresentations and false colourings in those publications contained.

The above and foregoing passed in Congress, and ordered they be made public.

Robert Fairchild, Chairman.

The above and foregoing, is a true copy examined.

Andrew Rowland, Clerk of the Congress.

The congress prepared and sent addresses to the towns of Newtown and Ridgfield, on the subject of their defection, and invited them to adopt the association of the continental Congress.

While the congress were sitting at Fairfield, the following toasts were drank by a company of gentlemen in town.

Addition to Whigs,—Subtraction to Tories. Multiplication to the Friends to Liberty,—Division to the Enemies to America.

Mr. HOLT, Hanover, Feb 17, 1775.

You are requested to publish the inclosed Resolves of the Committee of observation of the Township of Hanover, and you'll oblige, &c. your humble servant, Aaron Kitchel.

At a meeting of the Committee of observation for the Township of Hanover, in the county of Morris, and Province of New-Jersey, on the 15th of February, anno domini, 1775 —Present, Matthias Burnet, chairman; Aaron Kitchel, clerk; David Bruen, Capt. Stephen Day, Stephen Munson, Benjamin Howel, and Captain James Kien.

The following resolutions were unanimously entered into.

1st. RESOLVED unanimously, that they will discourage all unlawful tumultuous and disorderly meetings of the people within their districts; and upon all occasions exert themselves to the utmost of their power, and oppose and prevent any violence, offered to the person, or property of any one.

2d. Resolved unanimously, that they will take notice of all horse racing, cock fighting, and every kind of gaming whatsoever, and cause the offenders to be prosecuted according to law, and discourage every species of extravagant entertainments and amusements whatsoever, agreeable to the eighth article of the association of the Continental Congress.

3d. Resolved unanimously, that this Committee will, after the first day of March next, esteem it a violation of the seventh article of the said association, If any person, or persons should kill any sheep, until it is four years old, or sell any such sheep to any person, whom, he, or they may have cause to suspect will kill them, or carry them to market.—And further, that they will esteem a breach of said article, if any inhabitant of this township should sell any sheep of any kind whatsoever, to any person dwelling out of this county, or to any person who they may have cause to suspect will carry them out of this county, without leave first obtained of this Committee.

4th. Resolved unanimously, that we do recommend to the inhabitants of this township, the cultivation of flax and hemp, to the greatest extent, that their lands and circumstances will admit of.

5th. Resolved unanimously, that from several pamphlets and publications printed by James Rivington, of New-York, printer, we esteem him as an incendiary employed by a wicked ministry, to disunite and divide us; and therefore, we will not for ourselves have any connections, or dealings with him, and do recommend the same conduct towards him, to every person of this township; and we will discountenance any post-rider, stage-driver, or carrier, who shall bring his pamphlets, or papers into this county.

6th. Resolved unanimously, that if any manufacturer of any article made for home consumption, or any vender of goods and merchandizes in this township, shall take advantage of the necessities of his country, by selling at an unusual price, such person shall be considered as an enemy to his country; and do recommend it to the inhabitants of this township, to remember, that after the first day of March next, no East-India tea is to be used in any case whatsoever.

7th. Resolved unanimously, that we will, in all cases whatsoever, and at all events, use our utmost endeavours to comply with, and enforce every article of the association of the general Continental Congress.

Halifax, Jan. 12, 1775. 77 80

At a Meeting of the Freeholders of the Precinct of Hanover, in Ulster County, at the house of Mr Arthur Parks, on Friday the 27th of January, 1775, a Committee of the following members being chosen, viz. Charles Clinton, Alexander Trimble, Arthur Parks, Hendrick Smith, James Latta, William Jackson, and Jacob Newkirk. Charles Clinton was chosen Chairman. and the following Resolves were made.

1st RESOLVED, That this meeting do unanimously approve of the Association, and gratefully rely on the wise and patriotic measures of the late Continental Congress, and that we will, to the utmost of our power, use every prudent measure to render them effectual, at the same time that we will earnestly recommend to the respective towns and precincts within this County, to choose Committees to act for their respective districts, in conjunction with us.

A certain pamphlet, entitled, "Free "Thoughts on the Resolves of the Congress," being then exhibited, and publickly read, it was Resolved, 2dly. That it contains a false but specious show of reasoning, contrived only to induce the ignorant and credulous, to counteract the Resolves of the Congress by discouraging that happy union that subsists among us for the preservation of our Constitutional Liberty.

Resolved 3dly. That the said Pamphlet, examplary to all such guilty performances, be now publickly burnt and that the Authors and Propagators of such performance be held in due contempt as enemies to their Country. It was burnt accordingly.

Signed by Order of the Committee,
CHARLES CLINTON, Chairman.

Precinct of Shawangunk, in the County of Ulster, Jan 26, 1775.

A Certain pamphlet entitled free thoughts on the resolves of the Congress &c. under the signature of A. W. a Farmer, dated Nov. 16, 1774, having been privately dispersed among several of the Freeholders and inhabitants of the County of Ulster, a notification thereof was given by a public advertisement, whereon a number of the most respectable freeholders and inhabitants of the precinct of Shawangunk, in the County of Ulster, met at the house of George Smith, in said precinct, and a committee of five being chosen viz Johannis Jansen, Benjamin Smedes, jun Jacobus Bruyn, Johannis Hardenbergh jun. and Lewis Gasherie of whom Jacobus Bruyn being chosen chairman, when the proceedings of the late Continental Congress being read, as also the aforesaid pamphlet being produced and read, it was unanimously

Resolved 1. That it is the opinion of this meeting that they most heartily approve of the association, and acquiesce in all the other measures entered into by the late general Continental Congress, and that they will use every means in their power to render them effectual.

Resolved 2. That the said pamphlet is replete with falsehoods artfully calculated to impose on the illiterate, and unthinking, in order to frustrate the resolves of the Congress, and to destroy that union so necessary for the preservation of our American constitutional liberty, therefore Resolved 3. That the said pamphlet, in detestation, and abhorrence of such infamous publications, be now publicly burnt, and that the authors, publishers, and circulators of such performances be henceforth deemed the enemies of their country.

Which resolves being publicly read, and unanimously approved, the above pamphlet was burnt accordingly—Ordered likewise, that a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be transmitted to the committee of correspondence for this county.

By order of the committee,
JACOBUS BRUYN, Chairman.

BOSTON, Feb. 16.

A correspondent has sent the following, viz.

"The lively frigate of war, is lately stationed at Marblehead in order to harrass and and impress the seafaring inhabitants of that town. It is said to be by order of Admiral Greaves in consequence of the misconduct of his purser, John Williams, who had two boxes consigned him in the ship Champion, Capt Fellows, which arrived there from Great Britain between the first of December last, and January instant. These packages, agreeable to the continental association, ought to have been reshipped, or delivered to the committee of inspection for sale, or to be stored during the continuance of the association: but instead thereof Williams utterly refused to comply with the association, and with some other inferior officers of the navy demanded the boxes, alledging that they contained candles for Admiral Greaves; the committee as well as the town, thought the doings of the Continent too important to be thus treated by a common purser, and the matter was so regulated that the candles were detained, until application was made to the committee in the name of the purser, for selling the same, and the association was fully complied with. For this instance of fidelity in the Committee is that community, consisting of about seven thousand inhabitants, mostly dependent on trade and navigation, thus arbitrarily treated; which must convince the American colonies, that had they not nobly resolved to maintain and defend their rights and liberties, the most insignificant officers of the crown would have been authorized and encouraged to insult them. The crew of the Lively are not suffered to land by the inhabitants of Marblehead, who seem determined to defend themselves against these unjustifiable proceedings."

NEW-LONDON, February 17.

Wethersfield, Feb. 14th, 1775.

This evening, two of the inhabitants of a place, lately known, and called, by the name of Ridgfield, put up at a public house in this town, and entering into conversation, boldly justified the vote, of said late Town of Ridgfield, in disapproving of the doings of the Continental Congress; and proceeded far, in supporting Court Doctrines of passive obedience to Parliament, &c. which being taken notice of, by a number of gentlemen present, they considered it, in effect, as a direct breach of the association of the said Congress, and thereupon voted, that in their opinion, it was proper that these persons should be returned, the way from whence they came, under safe conduct, from town to town, to the said place, lately known, by the said name of Ridgfield; and that all honest, and true men to this country, might know, and avoid them, proper persons were appointed by the meeting, instantly to attend them as far as Farmington, on their return; and there to acquaint the inhabitants of their behaviour, and leave them, to their further transportation, as is usual, and as by law is provided, in cases of stroling ideots, lunatics, &c.—a letter was accordingly wrote to the gentlemen at Farmington, representing their unhappy and desperate situation, which was signed by the principal gentlemen present,—and the unhappy men, properly escorted, set off, at nine o'clock, amidst the hisses, groans, &c. of a respectable concourse of people,—the populace following them out of town, beating a dead march, &c. Not the least violence was offered, but the whole was conducted with the utmost regularity—and the company dispersed fully resolved, that as no one, of those principles, is supposed now to be an inhabitant of this town, it shall be their care and attention, that no such, shall be, hereafter tolerated, within it, no not for a night.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 23.

Part of a letter from a gentleman at New-York to his friend in Scotland.

Dear JACK, New-York, 13 Oct. 1774.

"After a tedious and fatiguing passage of eleven weeks and two days, our ship, (the Sharp of Greenock, Capt. Rogers,) came to an anchor in Boston road.—The sight of that city revived our drooping spirits, having been for several weeks kept on short allowance, and our water so totally spent, that even rain water, which had run along our decks, was esteemed a reviving cordial by many among us. In this distress, (being unable to make New York by reason of contrary winds) we anchored, as I said, before Boston; but the commanding Admiral there, not only refused us entrance into that port, or any supplies from thence, but told our Captain, that, if he did not depart in six hours, he would make seizure of the ship, adding, "that if we should cut one another's "throats, and so eat one another, we would "neither be allowed to get on shore, nor "permitted to get the least provisions from "thence;" for, continued he, "I know "not what the D—v—l brought so many "of you to this rebellious country."

I sincerely wish, that this same humane Admiral, had taken some better method to have secured our loyalty, because oppression, as the wisest of men has observed, makes even wise men mad.

We immediately sailed for Marblehead, where we arrived early next morning, and the day following several of us went by land to see Boston, where we were entertained in the most hospitable manner, and were supplied with every thing we called for except Tea, which my landlady (at the sign of the two Pallaverers) told me, was not for some time past, drank at her house. In about ten days we arrived safe at New-York all well; all my fellow passengers have either procured lands or got into business, and I propose to invite several of my own nearest friends to come over and see me at my house in this neighbourhood, which let me tell you, is the best house in the place where I live, and within a few hours walk of this pleasant, plentiful and populous city, &c, &c. R. A.

On last Thursday night, the ship Beulah, Captain William M'Bussell, arrived at the Watering place, about three leagues from this city, in nine weeks from London —— The Pilots, we are informed, were ordered not to bring her up, lest her being in the harbour should give uneasiness to the city. The same night, a sloop, with some members of the Sub-committee of Observation and other Citizens on board, went down and anchored near the said ship to observe her conduct, and they will continue there, till she departs—The ship wants a new bowsprit, when she is furnished with this and other necessaries for her voyage, she will be dispatched without delay.—She has neither entered nor broke bulk, and we are informed will be ready to sail about Sunday next.

This Day, about eleven o'Clock Motion is to be made in the General Assembly for the Appointment of Delegates to the general Congress, at Philadelphia in May next.

From the Boston Spy, February 16.

In contradiction to several publications in Mr. Rivington's paper, it is asserted, that never was a greater union among the friends of Liberty in Boston and the whole province, than at present, which has greatly confounded and disconcerted the enemies to America and the English constitution.—That Mr. Gardiner, the Treasurer appointed by the Provincial Congress, is now daily receiving money from every part of the province.—That desertions have not ceased since the execution of the soldier, Ferguson.—That the Minute men in every county are diligently preparing and qualifying themselves to defend their lives and properties when attacked, but are to annoy nobody, if nobody annoys them; and that the people of Marblehead are among the foremost for adhering most conscientiously to the recommendation of the Congress, in not acting offensively, unless the conduct of our enemies will justify such a measure to the Continent, to our mother country, (once so called) and to the whole world —That the account of a late riot in Boston, as published in Messrs. Fleets and Edes and Gill's papers, was strictly true, and not so much as controverted in Boston, where the evidences were at hand; and that all the publications in Mr. Rivington's paper, which give contrary accounts of the said matters, are absolute falsehoods, and can be proved so by the most incontestable evidences.

[It is with regret we are obliged to leave out some Advertisements that came late, and many valuable pieces relating to our present controversy with the British ministry —In the course of these papers, it seems to be proved to demonstration, that the manifest design and tendency of all the ministerial measures for some years past, has been, and is to destroy the English Constitution, and establish tyranny and arbitrary power in the British colonies & the whole nation It is also shewn, that the accounts of facts, and the representations made by the ministerial tools in support of their cause are almost entirely false, with scarce any exception, and all their reasonings upon them are delusive, and only calculated to deceive and betray us into ruin and slavery —The Compass of a Weekly paper is insufficient for the publication of these pieces, which well deserve the establishment of a fund for that purpose, especially when so much art and assiduity is used to deceive the people, and make them instruments to their own destruction.]

JUST arrived from England, and would be glad to serve any Gentleman in or near this City,

A GARDENER,

Who has a thorough Knowledge of Botany, and the management of a Physic Garden, having attended one or the first Eminence in England, for some years past.—Inquire of John Anderson, Printer, on Beekman Slip.

POET'S CORNER.

Inscription for a column at Running Mede, between Staines and Windsor, where magna charta, or the great charter of liberties, was obtained, by the barons in arms, from King John.

THOU, whom the verdant plain doth traverse here,
While thames among his willows, from thy view
Retires; O stranger, stay thee, and the scene
Around contemplate well: This is the place
Where England's antient Barons, clad in arms,
And stern with conquest, from their tyrant King,
(Then render'd tame) did challenge and secure
The charter of thy freedom, Pass not on,
Till thou have bless'd their memory, and paid
Those thanks, which God appointed the reward
Of public virtue. And if chance thy home
Salute thee with a father's honour'd name,
Go, call thy sons—instruct them what a debt
They owe their ancestors; and make them swear
To pay it, by transmitting down intire,
Those sacred rights to which themselves were born.

In four Pages FOLIO, on a good Letter and Demy Paper, in Size and Quality, equal to the Pennsylvania Gazette, or Journal,

THE
AND
Universal Advertiser:

THE Subscribers beg leave to inform the PUBLIC, that from the solicitation and encouragement of several Gentlemen of reputation, they have entered into a Co-partnership, for the purpose of printing a NEWS PAPER, to be published weekly on Saturday, which they engage to do, on the most Free and Impartial principles, consistent with the strictest secrecy and decorum.—Upon those principles, and those only, they take the patronage of the Public, assuring them, that the utmost exertion of their abilities and industry in every particular, will be used to make the PENNSYLVANIA MERCURY, and UNIVERSAL ADVERTISER, as improving, instructive and entertaining as possible. For this purpose they intend giving their Readers a relation of the most remarkable and important occurrences, Foreign and Domestic, collected from the Magazines and Papers in Europe and America as well as from other sources, having a particular regard to such matters, as shall most intimately relate to the Welfare of the Colonies.—To communicate advertisements of every kind—the arrival and departure of ships—all interesting marine intelligence—improvements in agriculture, &c. &c. with such ingenious observations as may tend to the entertainment of the public:—Nor shall a place be wanting for judicious remarks, essays, moral, historical, political, geographical and poetical of the learned of both sexes in this and the neighbouring provinces, whose general assistance is earnestly requested, and to whom the paper shall be ever free, and their productions received with gratitude—Fully intending to establish a Correspondence in Europe, the several colonies in America, and islands in the West Indies; they hope that all due encouragement will be given to so laudable an undertaking, and therefore wish to prosecute their design, so soon as a number of Subscribers are procured, sufficient barely to support the expence, relying on the kindness of the Public, for further encouragement, as their performance shall appear to deserve it.

Those Ladies and Gentlemen, who may please to favour us with their Subscriptions, shall (in the City, district of Southwark, and Northern Liberties) have their Papers handed to them, at their respective houses, or if in the country, forwarded by the first opportunity—Nor shall any care be wanting, to transmit them to the most distant Customers with all the expedition possible—The Rates of the Paper and Advertisements will be the same with those now printed in this City—All Advertitements shall be inserted in order as they come in, and shall appear in a fair and conspicuous manner. And as it is our wish to give the most perfect satisfaction, our best endeavours shall not be wanting, to make the Paper as complete as possible, nor shall any partial motives, whatever, induce us to swerve from the assurances we now give the Public.

Together with a Publication of the PENNSYLVANIA MERCURY and UNIVERSAL ADVERTISER, we propose carrying on the Printing Business, in a correct, careful, and diligent manner; and any person that may please to employ us, will be attended to with respect and fidelity.

☞ SUBSCRIPTIONS for the PENNSYLVANIA MERCURY and UNIVERSAL ADVERTISER, will be taken in by the Publishers, at their respective houses; by Mr. John Airy, at the Post office, Philadelphia; by Mr. John Holt, &c. in New-York; and by several other gentlemen in this and the neighbouring colonies, to whom Subscription papers will be immediately dispatched for that purpose.

WHEREAS a certain John Neal, left England in the spring of the year 1773, and has not been heard of more than once since, when it was said he resided at a place called New Albany: His brother, Daniel Neal, who served his apprenticeship at Learne, in the North of Ireland, to a house carpenter, and now lives at Charlotteberg iron works, would be very glad to know where he now is; and any person giving information to Mr. Archibald M'Vicker, merchant, in New York, the favour will be gratefully acknowledged, by

TO BE SOLD,

THE healthy and pleasantly situated FARM, known by the name of Brown's Point in Middletown, East New-Jersey, late the property of James Kearny, deceased, it contains in the whole upwards of 1050 acres, about 60 of it salt meadow, there is and may be made as much of fresh; the land is naturally kind for grain, level and of easy tillage, about 300 acres of it cleared, and may with 800 pannels of fence be inclosed—a good out-let for cattle. There is on it a new house and kitchen, and a stone cellar under the house, a barn and out-houses, with the half of a good new saw mill joining the premises, distant about one mile from a landing. Two orchards of good fruit, one of them in its prime, the other beginning to bear, and in a common fruit year, may produce at least 150 barrels of excellent cider—a large peach orchard, and sundry other fruit trees:—Its bounds, on the east and west sides, are confined within two creeks and streams of water to the rear, which fixes the limits, not to be disputed, and on the north by the bay, which in there seasons afford a plenty of shad, a variety of other fish, fowl, a plenty of excellent oysters and clams—It is near to a church of England, and of sundry of the different dissenters, where divine service is performed;—lies distant 10 miles from Sandy Hook, 7 from Amboy, 12 from Shrewsbury, and 2 ½ from Middletown Point, which is the principal landing in the county, and the most advantageously formed for navigation, of which this place is seated at the entrance, where a vessel of 300 tons can lie in a safe harbour, and may be at sea in one hour—Staten-Island, the narrows, and Long-Island in sight, and gives a prospect of vessels going out and coming in from sea to New-York and Amboy; it is more particularly formed from its natural qualities, for New-York and Amboy markets, as its distance don't exceed three hours sail from the former, and but one from the latter, much may be made with a moderate expence; a great plenty of manure without much labour may be yearly got; there are mills near, both by land and water. Within three hundred yards distance of the house, there is a very convenient place for erecting a tide mill, with almost every advantage, little expence and great safety, with water enough, in common, for two pair of stones. It will be sold altogether or a part of it, as it is so situated that it can very conveniently be divided into two or three farms, and may be entered on next spring; the title indisputable; to be sold by the subscriber, living within two miles of the premises, on reasonable terms, as to price and payment.

THE House wherein Messrs. Garret and Wynandt Ketteltas now live, is to be LET, by

WOODWARD and KIP.

THE FIRST
Paper Manufactory
Established in the city of New-York, by JOHN KEATING,

IS now removed to Peek's-Kill, and is in great want of a large quantity of fine and coarse LINEN RAGS, &c. for which the highest price will be given, in cash, by the said Keating, either at the mills or his store in this city. As several persons are employed here to collect materials for mills, which are out of this province, he finds himself under the necessity of soliciting the favour of the public in general, to be careful in saving every species of materials that are requisite to support such an useful and necessary branch of business.—He cannot help flattering himself that most of his fellow citizens will give the preference to a mill in the province, from a natural regard to the place of their nativity, or residence, but more especially when it is considered that such a conduct will be a certain means of preventing large sums of money going out of the province for paper. The present alarming situation of the colonies renders it entirely needless to point out the utility of establishing this and every other kind of manufactory among us, as soon as possible; this being the safest and most efficacious method of convincing the Ministry of Great-Britain of their errour, and securing opulence to ourselves.——It is certain, that if all the rags which are thrown in the fire, and swept out of doors, in this city, were saved and collected, they would, in a year, amount to a very considerable sum, besides being a means of producing large quantities of different kinds of an article we can no ways do without. It is therefore hoped that more attention will be paid to this affair in future, both from a principle of patriotism, and frugality.

The said Keating has for sale, at his store in the the Fly, a general assortment of DRY GOODS, which he will sell cheap for cash, or country produce, and where all sorts of writing, printing, cartridge, sheathing, wrapping, and bonnet paper may be had, as also paste-boards at the lowest prices.

☞ Good encouragement for Journeymen Paper-Makers. 8—

To William M'Donald, Esq; late High Sheriff of the County of Somerset, in the Eastern Division of the Province of New-Jersey, and to such Persons as may be inclined to purchase the Farm and Lands, late of Cornelius Van Horne, of the said County, Esq; deceased, and to all others whom the Subject of this Notification may concern.

WHEREAS the said Cornelius Van Horne, was, at the time of his death, indebted among other persons, to John Chambers, of the city of New-York, since deceased, (whose representative one of the subscribers, Augustus Van Cortlandt is) in eleven hundred and seventy pounds, besides a considerable arrear of interest, and was also largely indebted to divers other persons; and being seized of a dwelling house, barn, farm, and tract of land in Somerset county aforesaid, containing upwards of one thousand acres, whereon he lived at the time of his decease; and which hath since been occupied by his widow, Elisabeth Van Horne, and his son, John Van Horne: He the said Cornelius Van Horne made his will, and devised the same, subject to the payment of his debts, to his said widow, during her life, and the remainder to his son, Philip Van Horne, Esq; and the said John Van Horne, lately deceased: And whereas the said widow and children of the said Cornelius Van Horne, in order to satisfy the creditors of the said Cornelius, as well as their own creditors, did by indenture of release duly executed and proved, dated the 26th day of February, 1774 grant and release the said farm, plantation and tract of land, to the subscribers, Charles M'Evers, and Augustus Van Cortlandt in fee simple: In trust nevertheless to sell and dispose of the same, and in the first place to apply the monies arising therefrom towards payment and satisfaction of the debts due from the said Cornelius Van Horne, at the time of his decease, and then one moiety of the remaining money, towards payment and satisfaction of the debts of the said Philip Van Horne, and the other moiety towards satisfaction of the debts of the said John Van Horne; and whereas we are informed, that you the said late Sheriff of the county of Somerset, on pretext of judgments entered against the executors of the said Cornelius Van Horne, and against the said Philip Van Horne, and John Van Horne, since the transfer of the said estate to us in trust as aforesaid, have seized and taken into your hands, the said farm and plantation, and do mean to proceed to sell the same at public vendue: Now therefore, to prevent all impositions upon purchasers, we have thought fit to give this public notice, of our title to the said farm and plantation,—that we intend to sell the same, in execution of our trust, and to apply the money arising therefrom in the manner which the said deed, as well as the principles of law and equity direct; and we do hereby prohibit you the said Sheriff from selling, and caution all against persons purchasing the said farm or plantation under such judgments or executions, as they would wish to avoid litigation and expence; we do further advertise, that we stand ready to agree with any persons for the sale of the said farm and plantation, at a reasonable price, either altogether, or in parcels, being advised by counsel, that our title (which we are willing to produce to an inquirer) will be good and sufficient to the purchasers. Dated January 30th, 1775.
